On May 26, 1983, I was at HBE Truck Leasing to observe the beginning of the clean up of the film chips left in trucks at the site by the subject facility. I arrived at 9:00 a.m. and met with representatives of HBE and Petrochem.

The representatives of HBE provided the keys to the locks on the four trailers with chips. Petrochem proceeded to sample the chips in the four trailers. After the trailers were sampled, three empty trailers were moved to the NW corner of the facility, where clean up operations were going to be conducted. Additionally, Petrochem was going to make an estimate of the volume of the chips in the trailers.

On May 27, 1983, I was at HBE to observe the decontamination of the three empty trailers. By the time I arrived, 2:30 p.m., the work was done except for final packaging of the bleach solution used to clean the trailers. Each trailer had been sprayed inside with a bleach solution. The solution was collected in 55 gallon drums after spraying. The spent bleach was left at the facility.

No further clean up operations are planned until Tuesday, May 31, 1983.
